

WEDDING memoirs

Big fat INDIAN wedding!

Although most weddings in north India are known to be a grand celebration, this one surpassed them all. A glamorous affair, this lavish union saw guests from all over the world — Spain, England and Belgium — getting together to bless the couple.

Samaira Kalita, daughter of renowned business tycoon Bhagya Kalita and Gitika Kalita recently tied the knot with Dilkash Sharma, son of Asha Sharma and Sunil Sharma, another well-known business family.

Apart from dance-masti by family members, the do saw quite a few professional acts as well — from qawwali by Nizami brothers to Spanish violin orchestra — that entertained the guests, as the to-be bride and groom made a grand entry, accompanied by bihu dancers and fireworks. While Dilkash looked handsome in a Tarun Tahliani sherwani, Samaira dazzled in a beautiful lehenga by designer Sabyasachi Mukherjee.
